How does business Finland foster local innovation?

Photo: Business Finland One of the ways Business Finland nurtures local innovation is through our Leading Company funding mechanism. The initiative is designed to encourage large Finnish companies, or international companies with a subsidiary in Finland, to take the lead in developing an ecosystem for their specific area of industry.

How does business Finland support ecosystems?

We currently support 22 such ecosystems. These lead companies receive up to EUR 20 million in funding, which they allocate to startups and R&D activities in their field. Business Finland also allocates funds to support the other ecosystem participants.

How can local subsidiaries support Finland's growth?

By enabling local subsidiaries to be ecosystem leaders, we aim to foster international collaboration and generate new opportunities to support Finland's growth. Here we look at the work done by five such local subsidiaries: ABB, Borealis Polymers, Meyer Turku, Picosun and Sandvik.
